

TSL expands Middle East operations with new appointment

Suhail Ahmed will manage TSL's technical services.

Suhail Ahmed joins TSL from CNBC Arabia.

The Middle East arm of TSL has expanded its regional operations with the appointment of Suhail Ahmed as manager of technical services. In his new role, Ahmed will be responsible for providing support for current, existing and future projects in the Middle East. Ahmed will also be closely involved with all technical aspects of TSL's operations in the region.

Speaking about Ahmed's appointment, Colin Sherriff, general manager of TSL Middle East said: "The addition of Suhail Ahmed is an important step in the continued growth of our Dubai office and will further strengthen our regional support operations. As well as developing local integration capabilities, Suhail will assist with proposals, presentations, and customer liaison. As a highly experienced and respected professional, we are delighted that he has joined our team."

Ahmed joins TSL from CNBC Arabia where he was Bureau operations manager, and provided advanced technical support designed to incorporate the latest technology to ensure optimisation and quality control of all bureau systems and workflows.
