Aimed at creative positions the AVM-T-MIX is a unique concept in audio management and monitoring in 2RU. Normally reserved for monitoring and measurement devices, this BBC-inspired product adds a dual level, 10 channel digitally assignable mixer and up to 64 audio inputs can be chosen simultaneously from SDI, AES and analogue sources. As part of its move to MediaCityUK, Salford Quays, BBC Sport is standardising on the new AVM-T-MIX as the audio monitoring solution for TV Production which will help to streamline the workflow of flagship productions such as Football Focus, Final Score and Match of the Day.
